I think it is about time that the federal govenment and all the states drop all charges against Microsoft and get on with other more important things. It seems a shame to me that Mr. Gates is punished for coming up with new ideas that help us all with our computers. Frankly, as a normal ordinary customer, I would much prefer having everything bundled into one application so I don't have to worry about going out and searching for the applications I need. With Windows, they are all right there for me.
